

BLIDC members donate to charities

● Lend a Hand Bah accepts a donation from Commonwealth Brewery

● Salvation Army receives donation from Caribbean Bottling Company

● Purity Bakery makes a much-needed donation to Hands For Hunger

★ AS the country continues to navigate the COVID-19 pandemic, the Bahamas Light Industries Development Council (BLIDC), and its members, have rallied together to support the communities that they serve.

Companies like Purity Bakery, the Caribbean Bottling Company (CBC), Blanco Chemicals and Commonwealth Brewery Limited (CBL) have ensured that supermarket shelves are stocked with essential items such as beverages, bleach and bread. And they have reached out to a number of local charities and outreach organizations to provide food items and assistance.

To date, Purity Bakery, Blanco Chemicals, CBC and CBL have collectively donated over 1,500 cases of beverages, 2,000 loaves of bread and 50 cases of bleach to groups like the Salvation Army, Red Cross, Hands for Hunger, Lend a Hand Bahamas, Great Commission, the Bahamas Feeding Network, and a number of other homes for the aged and charitable groups in both New Providence and Grand Bahama.

"This has been a challenging time for all Bahamians," noted Jonathan Cartwright, President of the BLIDC and Cartwright's Bedding. "As we navigate this difficult period, our BLIDC members understand how important it is to assist wherever and whenever we can."

"Companies like Purity Bakery, Blanco Chemicals, the Caribbean Bottling Company and Commonwealth Brewery, are not only performing essential manufacturing functions right now and ensuring that Bahamians have uninterrupted access to bread, water and other beverages. They are also committed to making sure that the most vulnerable members of our community also have access to those essential items."

The BLIDC and its members have noted that they are committed to providing ongoing assistance to community groups, throughout the duration of the COVID-19 pandemic and beyond. "The BLIDC and our members not only live, work, and thrive in the communities that we serve—but we also support, invest and are committed to those communities, through thick and thin," added Karla Wells-Lisgaris, Vice President of the BLIDC.
